CAMBAY AGATES

Two miniature teak wells are shown side-by-side on a dark wooden surface. Each well is a small, cylindrical container with a handle on top. The handle is made of a curved piece of teak wood, secured to the well's rim with small metal rivets. The wood grain is clearly visible on both items. The well on the right shows a prominent knot in the wood.

A close-up photograph of a wooden agate container. The container is cylindrical with a lid and two handles. The wood has a natural, wavy grain pattern. The lid is slightly domed and fits snugly on top. The handles are attached to the sides of the container. The text "CAMBAY AGATES" is overlaid in the center of the image.

CAMBAY AGATES

A close-up photograph of a wooden handle with a metal ring. The handle is made of light-colored wood and has a smooth, polished finish. It is attached to a metal ring that is also polished. The background is a dark, textured surface. The text "CAMBAY AGATES" is overlaid on the image in a white, sans-serif font.

CAMBAY AGATES

A polished, brown agate stone with a fan-like pattern, resting on a dark surface. The stone has a smooth, glossy finish and a complex, organic shape. The pattern consists of concentric, wavy lines radiating from a central point, creating a fan-like appearance. The colors range from light tan to dark brown. The text "CAMBAY AGATES" is overlaid in white, sans-serif font across the center of the stone.

A wooden teak art placer with a handle, resting on a wooden surface. The piece is made of light-colored wood with a smooth finish. It features a long, horizontal handle at the top, supported by two vertical side rails. The base is a shallow rectangular tray with a slightly raised front edge. The entire piece is set against a blurred background of a light-colored wall and a dark wooden surface.
